

last night
they stole our only
two chicken
(i should say chickens, but i say chicken)
around one o'clock
in the night i heard
a noise -
someone entering our compound?
i locked our roomdoor.
silence.
after a while
i heard
chicken squeaking.
i thought it happening at
our neighbour's compound,
because i didn't know we had our own chicken.
this morning i've learned
it had been our chicken.
